Jubilee Hymn

By MARGARET E. SANGSTER

We praise Thee, we bless Thee, O Saviour Divine.
This day of the harvest the glory is Thine.
Accept, we beseech Thee, the tribute we bring,
To lay at Thy feet, our Redeemer and King.

O Lord of the harvest, in toil and in tears,
Thy servants went forth in the seed-sowing years.
To-day are we reaping and binding the sheaves.
Ah, rich is Thy promise to him who believes!

The nations who tarried in darkness so long
Have thrilled to the bliss of the Star and the song,
And over the gloom of their sin and their loss
Hath risen the light of Thy conquering Cross.

O Saviour Divine, in this Jubilee Year.
In splendor of brightness, we pray Thee, appear;
Great Lord of the Nations, the crowns are to Thee.
Our service we render from sea unto sea.

We praise Thee, we bless Thee, for idols o'erthrown,
For joy that replaces the tear and the moan.
From East and from West we are hasting to bring
Our tributes to Thee, O Redeemer and King.
